

If you're having trouble logging into the digital session for The Ethics of Shame:

1. Click through the button that says "View access links" in your email.
2. Check the event name on your ticket is for the right session. This should say "Ethics of Shame". If you purchased a multi-pack it may not be in date order and a future session might be showing up first.
3. If it's a previous session, hit the arrow to the right of the ticket. This will scroll you through each ticket you have. Please proceed until you find the correct session.
4. Click the button "Access online event" to watch. The recorded session is available right away.

If you're still experiencing issues, please contact our team via engagement@ethics.org.au, let us know your ticket number and we will be in contact as soon as possible to troubleshoot. We apologise for the difficulties, and appreciate your understanding.
